This is responsible skilled work in the operation of large gasoline or diesel-powered trucks equipped with compaction units, special hydraulic lifting boom or related mechanical systems designed for the collection, loading and unloading of trash debris or refuse. Such units may be a one-person operation or a two or more person operation. Work involves the safe and efficient operation of assigned automotive equipment and extends to supervising the work of and overseeing the safety of all assigned crew members.

Work is performed in accordance with established departmental policy and procedure over either regularly established routes or random pickup locations as determined by the Sanitation Director. Employees are responsible for the timeliness and efficiency of collections, the safe operation of the equipment and the safety of all crew members assigned to the truck. Employees are required to perform normal operator maintenance and servicing of equipment and to refer major mechanical problems to the mechanics or to the Sanitation Director or Sanitation Collections Supervisor at the first sign of trouble. The employee receives general supervision from a supervisor and work is reviewed by observation of results, compliance with policy and procedures and by investigation of citizen complaints.
